Contents

Acknowledgments ix

Introduction: Prostitution Diversion Programs—A New Paradigm or Business as Usual? 1

1. Prostitution Diversion: Criminalization, Individual Responsibility, and Rescue 10

2. Study Sites: Prostitution Diversion Programs in Baltimore and Philadelphia 23

4. “I’ve Been Raped, I’ve Been Robbed, But I Could Have Been Killed”: Intersections of Trauma, Substance Use Problems, and Prostitution in the Eyes of the Court 56

5. “I’ve [Got] Hooker Court Every Month”: Shame and Shaming in Prostitution Diversion Programs 73

7. “Figuring Out What Should Happen”: Transformative or Conforming Practice? 114

8. “Better Than Nothing”? 132