Contents

Preface ix
Acknowledgments xvii

PART I DOWNTOWN POLITICS AFTER WORLD WAR II

1 St. Louis, Stan “The Man” Musial, and the Politics of Destruction 29
4 Albert E. Cobo’s Detroit, Ernest J. Bohn’s Cleveland, and Expressway Politics 90

PART II REFASHIONING THE AMERICAN CITY, 1970–2000

5 George V. Voinovich and the Pursuit of Business in Cleveland 119
6 Coleman Young and Gambling on Detroit 141
7 Florence Scala, Mel Ravitz, and the People Left Behind in Five U.S. Cities 163
PART III  DOWNTOWN’S CONTINUING ALLURE, 2000–2020

8  Richard M. Daley and Chicago’s Thriving Downtown 193
9  Big-City Hospitals: From Urban Renewal to the Next Growth Machine 216
10 “Gilbertville,” “Ilitchville,” and the Redevelopment of Detroit 233

Notes 257
Index 315